

- Woman feeding serpent in Greek art, i.
   87 sq. ; as inspired prophetess of a
   god,
   ii. 257
 Woman's dress assumed by men to deceive
   dangerous spirits, ii. 262
   sq.
 Women pass through holed stones as cure for barrenness, i.
   36, with n.<sup>4</sup> ;
   impregnated by dead saints, 78
   sq. ;
   impregnated
   by serpents, 80
   sqq. ;
   fear to be impregnated by ghosts, 93 ;
   impregnated by
   the flower of the banana, 93 ;
   excluded from
   sacrifices
   to Hercules, 113 n.<sup>1</sup> ; their high importance in the social system of the Pelew Islanders,
   ii. 205.<sup>^7</sup> ; the
   cultivation of the staple food in the hands
   of women (Pelew Islands), 206 r//. ;
   their social importance
   increased by the combined
   influence of mother-kin
   and landed
   property, 209 ;
   their legal superiority to men in ancient Egypt, 214 ;
   impregnated
   by fire, 235 ;
   priests dressed
   as, 253 sqq. ;
   dressed
   as men, 255 w.<sup>1</sup>, 257 ; excluded from sacrifices to Hercules, 258
   n.<sup>5</sup> ; dressed as men at marriage, 262
   sqq. ; dressed
   as men at circumcision,
   263. See.
   also Barrenness, Childless, and
   Sacred
   Women
   ---as prophetesses
   inspired by dead
   chiefs, ii. 192
   sq. ; inspired
   by gods, 207
   ---, living,
   regarded as the wives of dead kings, ii.
   191, 192 ;
   reputed the
   wives of gods, 207
   Women's hair,
   sacrifice of, i. 38
   Wororu, man supposed to cause conception in women without sexual intercourse, i.
   105 Worship of ancestral spirits
   among the Bantu tribes of Africa, ii. 174
   sqq. ;
   among the Khasis of Assam, 203
   ---of the dead
   perhaps fused
   with the propitiation of
   the corn-spirit,
   i. 233
   sqq. ; among the Bantu tribes, ii. 174
   sqq.
   ---of dead kings
   and chiefs in Africa,
   ii. 160 sqq. ;
   among the Barotse, 194
   sq. ; an important element in African
   religion, 195 sq.
   ---of hot springs,
   i. 206 sqq.
   ---of rnephitic vapours, i. 203
   sqq.
   ---of volcanoes,
   i. 216 sqq.
   Worshippers of Osiris forijidden
   to injure
   fruit-trees and
   to stop up wells,
   ii.
   in
   " Wounds between the arms " of Hebrew
   prophets, i. 74
   «.<sup>4</sup>
   "-----of the Naaman," Arab
   name for the scarlet anemone, i. 226 Wreaths as

amulets, ii. 242
sq.

Wiinsch, R., on
the Aiif/it'.s/t'riti,
i. 235
/A<sup>1</sup>; on modern survivals of festivals
of Adonis, 246 ;
on Kaster
ceremonies
in the Greek church, 254 //.
Wyse, W., ii. 35
:/.<sup>1</sup>, 51 n.<sup>1</sup>

Xcnophanes of Colophon on the Kgyptian
rites of mourning for gods, ii. 42, 43

Yam, island of Torres Straits,
heroes
worshipped in animal forms
in, i.
139 //..<sup>1</sup>

Yap, one of the Caroline
Islands, prostitution of unmarried girls in, ii. 26^
•*!<•/•

Yarilo, a personification of vegetation, i.
253

Year, length of the solar, determined
by the Theban priests, ii. 26
-----, the fixed
Alexandrian, ii.
28, 49,
92

-----, theCi'ltic,
reckoned from November
ist, ii. 8.t
----( the Egyptian, a vague year, not corrected by intercalation, ii. - 2.l.v./.

----- of God, a Sothie peiiuil, H.
^6 //.« ;
began with the
rising of Sinus,
-^

---, the old
Iranian, ii. 67
the Julian, ii.
28

---, the Teutonic,
reckoned from October ist, ii.
81

Yehar-baal, king of Byblus, i. 14
Yehaw-nielech,
king of By bins, i,
i,j

Ynglings, a Norse family, descended
from 1'Yey, ii. 100

Yorn.be, a Kantu tribe of Northern Rhodesia, their sacrifice of

iirsMrnils
 to the dend, ii.
 191 Youth restored by the witch Medea, i.
 180 sc/.
 Yucatan,
 calendar of the Indians of, ii.
 29 //.
 *
 Yukon River in Alaska, ii. 51 Yungrrnan tribe of Australia, their belief
 as to the birth
 of children, i.
 101 Yuruks, pastoral people of Cilicia, i, 150 n.<sup>1</sup>

 Xambesi, the Barotsc of the, ii.
 193 Zas, name of priest of Coryeian /ens, i.

<sup>155</sup> Zec.lin.riah, on the moununs',
 of or for Hadadrimmon,
 i. 15 «.'*'; on
 wounds
 of prophet, 74.
 //, <1 Zekar-baal, king
 of Hyblus, i. r.j.
 /emfAi'csta, on
 the. 1'Yavashi:,
 ii. 07
 sq.
 Zenjirli in Syria,
 Mittite
 sculj»tui<"; at, i.
 134; statue of horned god at,
 ifr.> Zer, old Kgyptian
 king, his true !
 If»nr;
 name Khent,
 ii. 20 n.<sup>1</sup>,
 154. ,S'<r
 Khent Zerka, river in Moab, i. aic; H.*